Financial Values Inventory

Your values are beliefs or ideas that you consider important or desirable. Everyone has values, but everyone does not value the same things equally.

To help you recognize some of your own money values, read the pairs of words below, then circle one item in the pair that would be your first choice in answering the question, "If you had an extra $100, which of the two items would you spend it on?" You must make one choice in each pair.

□ Hobbies/Sports □ Housing (Dream Home/Vacation Home) □ Retirement Savings/Investments □ Church/Charitable Giving □ Church/Charitable Giving □ Retirement Savings/Investments □ Social Activities/Eating Out □ Hobbies/Sports □ Social Activities/Eating Out □ Housing (Dream Home/Vacation Home) □ Retirement Savings/Investments □ Car □ Social Activities/Eating Out □ Personal Appearance/Grooming/Clothes □ Personal Appearance/Grooming/Clothes □ Vacation/Travel □ Education: Self/Others □ Hobbies/Sports □ Housing (Dream Home/Vacation Home) □ Housing (Dream Home/Vacation Home) □ Vacation/Travel □ Personal Appearance/Grooming/Dress □ Education: Self/Others □ Church/Charitable Giving □ Education: Self/Others □ Car □ Personal Appearance/Grooming/Clothes □ Car □ Retirement Savings/Investments □ Retirement Savings/Investments □ Social Activities/Eating Out □ Hobbies/Sports □ Personal Appearance/Grooming/Dress □ Hobbies/Sports □ Car □ Vacation/Travel □ Housing (Dream Home/Vacation Home) □ Church/Charitable Giving □ Vacation/Travel □ Social Activities/Eating Out

Now total up the number of times you circled each item in the pair activity:

 Education	 Charitable Giving	 Car
 Personal Care	 Housing	 Hobbies/Sports
 Travel	 Social	 Retirement
